

Health Education Update

January 2012

A Message from the Foundation's Health Educators:

The Foundation supports the Human Trafficking and Sexual Exploitation Prevention movement.

Our president, Barack Obama, has declared January as National Human Trafficking and Prevention month. He has challenged communities to take part in the eradication of this detrimental issue and to spread awareness that this problem is not limited to international borders -- it is alive and effecting us here in the Inland Empire.

Three of our Health Educators have been trained to provide basic "Human Trafficking 101" workshops and are committed to present on this topic as requested.

If your organization/school/business is interested in receiving this training (free of charge) please contact Maune Vaca by phone at 951-941-2717 or by email at maune@rchf.org.

For more information or to get involved in strengthening our Human Trafficking and Sexual Exploitation laws in CA, please visit www.caseact.org.

Our Health Educators participated in the "Train the Trainer" workshop provided by Operation SafeHouse's Anti-Human Trafficking Director through the Riverside County Anti-Human Trafficking Task Force (RCAHT).

Our Health Educators presented their first training to the members of our Riverside Challenges of Youth Coalition (RCOYC). RCOYC is a youth focused partnership committed to raising awareness about teen health issues.

If your organization serves Riverside youth or you are an interested parent or teen, please consider joining RCOYC. For more info about RCOYC or on Human Trafficking contact Maune Vaca at maune@rchf.org or
